

Went and further

Found passings

each other gliding

I shall never settle or

I would wet myself so badly that they're shouting at us with hands n feet because the world is a big blue stare after everything I tried to lope but a roofless home and back in the beginning most peculiar of all

kallery which bobbed

actually our fault

in the end and mostly

down with one

at least give us

the attention of a fop

who after all pledged

I admit to cooing

adequate wobbling

we learned to be eels who

kindly bowed out

and swim swam swum

to the city of the jains

away from the carcasses